'Diane' Victims Find New Home

"We just thought we were doomed!" So says Mrs. Louise Goar, of 3315 W. Anaheim St., Harbor City, as she recalled the horror with which she and her three children, Kenny, 9; Sharon, 6; and Jimmy, 3; stood on a hill-top in Putnam, Conn., and watched Hurricane Diane's raging waters invade their home and sweep away everything they owned.

Summoned from a construction job in Stamford, Conn., Gordon Goar, Jr., joined his bewildered family only a few hours later to find his home submerged to the roof-top.

The fact that they are now settled comfortably in an apartment in Harbor City still seems unbelievable to everyone in the Goar family, each of whom retains a vivid impression of the destructive storm that had them out of bed early on the morning of Aug. 29, hurrying desperately to answer the call to evacuate. There was no time to worry about saving anything except their lives.

Appliances—Float Away With the children it was a period of excitement.

A steady stream of refrigerators, television sets, automobiles, tables, chairs and "all sorts of household items" rushing down the swollen Quinnipiac River, which seemed like a "huge tidal wave" after the sudden eruption of three dams in the story Sharon tells her first grade classmates at Lomita Elementary School.

Outstanding in Kenny's recollection is the blinding sight and deafening noise caused by a Magnesium plant explosion. It "kept on for two days," igniting two factories, that promptly burned to the ground.

But it was the "terrifying feeling of complete helplessness and hopelessness following the gradual realization that everything we owned was gone" that gripped their parents. It was an experience never to be forgotten, and was surpassed only by what seemed a miraculous road to recovery.

Assistance Arrives—The road to recovery was opened by the American Red Cross which came through with assistance in the form of food and clothing for the family, who had found temporary shelter with Mrs. Goar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Monford, of 283 S. Main St., Putnam. Their small home was one of the few spared Diane's lethal force.

The next word from the Red Cross brought instructions to "come west" from Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Goar, Sr., of 28366 Woodward Ave., Lomita. Established in their present home, complete with new furnishings supplied by the Red Cross in place of what they had lost, the Goars are again beginning to enjoy a feeling of domestic security that underlines a normal family life.

State Seeks Investors in Defunct Firm

Six Torrance residents or former residents are eligible to receive liquidating dividends of Pacific States Savings and Loan Co., which is no longer in operation, according to State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood.

The firm was liquidated in 1946 and some investors could not be found. Kirkwood is custodian of the $189,929 left in unclaimed liquidating dividends. A service charge of one per cent or $3, whichever is less, is charged.

Listed as former investors with their last known addresses are Mary Isabel Covington, of 1216 Elm Ave.; W. Haworth, Post Office Box 294, Harbor City; Alfred Lambert Maberly, of 1714 Martine Ave.; and Meljane Sanderhoff and Ronald Sanderhoff, executor of the estate of Meljane Sanderhoff, of 1307 El Prado.

Persons who have information about these persons may write to the State Controller, Sacramento.

TOR-NIDO TIDBITS

Thanksgiving Turkey Devoured At Homes Throughout Torrance

By VERA C. WRIGHT
FR 2-2288

The social wheel is gaining momentum at home within our community. The "Little Sir" restaurant was the headquarters for the A. MacKenzie's Thanksgiving dinner. A drive along the coast with a tour through Topanga Canyon completed the day for the MacKenzie family, of 4332 W. 179th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wisdom enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Brock in Lawndale, while Mr. and Mrs. R. Torrence and family entertained P. Torrence of Gardena.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Runsted and young debutante, Joann, motored to the home of friends in La Habra for their turkey with all the trimmings.

The Cecil Davis family, of 18337 Roslin Ave., enjoyed their meal at the Earl Nichols home in Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Roza motored to Los Angeles, to the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Quintal for their Thanksgiving fare.

Eleven-year-old Lewis Wayne La Francois, of 1002 Firmona Ave., agrees completely that there is more than a crowd when riding a bike.

Lewis is still suffering from conclusion following a bike upset on which there were two riders.

Patricia Stamm, of Glenburn Ave., hosted the November business meeting of the Eta Kappa chapter of the ESA sorority. Their many philanthropic activities were discussed along with plans of their Christmas party.

Gloria Duran exchanged vows with Robert Hernandez in nuptial rites performed in Redondo Beach on Nov. 18. The happy couple are now at home with friends at 18304 Roslin Ave.

For the benefit of those who think they might be having eye trouble! It is absolutely true that Alice MacKenzie and Claudine Blake have been sporting new jewelry every hour on the hour! For this information, I called FR 4-0069!

One of the most exciting parties for the young set was the brother and sister combination birthday party held for Leona and Michael Wisdom at 18313 Roslin Ave., Nov. 18, when Nonie became four years of age and Michael hit the ripe age of one.

Those who enjoyed the white and pink decorated cake and ice cream were Peggy Crane, Kathy Gelixas, Teddy Slatten, Glenn Crane, Cherlene Herring, Kaylene Slatten, Linda Hynes, Terry Torrence, Mary Ellen Slatten, David Hooker, Michael Torrence, Mom and Pop Wisdom, grandmother, Mrs. W. Brock and aunt, Miss Marilyn Smith.

Other young adults celebrating birthdays this month are Ronnie Scott, Doug Stinger, Dennis Bush, Kenny MacKenzie, Jerry Blake, Bill Whitlow, Jerome Lenberger and Greg Jackson who helped Freddy MacKenzie celebrate his 11th birthday.

Mother Alice and Mrs. G. Blake helped set up games, presented prizes and dished out refreshments till their arms were sore.

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hernandez celebrated their first Thanksgiving dinner together at the home of Mrs. Eva Gonzales, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis La Francois, of 1008 Firmona, hosted Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brian, of Los Angeles, at their Thanksgiving feast table.

Would like to hear from more of you concerning your pre-holiday activities. Unable to reach me by phone you may send a letter or postcard to 18328 Roslin Ave.
